The Jeff Davis School Board realises that appropriate modern technology is essential for teachers to teach to the high standards expected in today's learning environment. Using technology can change the way we learn. It offers flexibility and creativity in learning, and motivates children to learn. So when a new primary school was being completed, IT Director, Keith Osburn and Media Specialist, Tammy Girtman, were looking for a classroom solution that would be intuitive and easy to adapt.

Although the school board had been using interactive whiteboards for several years (non-TeamBoard), the development of the new building was the ideal opportunity to ensure the school was equipped with the best available interactive learning technology. Many would assume we would go down the same route with the current IWB providers, but rather than relying on preconceptions the board met with 3 providers including TeamBoard. After evaluations completed by both teachers and administrators – TeamBoard's solution was selected.

"We chose TeamBoard for our school because it is EASY.....
easy to install, teacher friendly, kid friendly, easy to clean, and easy to use with any software. Our teachers design very engaging lessons for our students. They love it."

– Tammy Girtman, Media Specialist, Jeff Davis Primary.

To date Jeff Davis School District has over 40 TeamBoards and plan to continue to add boards as they are provided with more funding. .

"I prepare my math lessons on my TeamBoard. It allows me to have math problems already prepared for the students to complete. I like to use interactive websites to help the students with their math facts. The TeamBoard helps my students stay focused and involved in the class."

– Mrs. Mims, Teacher

"My students and I love using the TeamBoard. The students love being able to complete interactive activities and writing on the board with their finger. We are also able to use our math series with TeamBoard to play interactive games that support our standards."

–Mr. Harrell, Teacher
